Last Pigeon Race

of the Season Sunday.

The last pigeon event of the season will be held at Indianapolis Sunday, instead of San Antonio, Tex., as at first reported. I. Wolfson, local pigeon fancier, will have ten birds in this race. They will be liberated Sunday morning. The Columbia pigeons will fly eight hundred miles by air line.

"It depends on the weather and the kind of country a bird flies over as to the time it will make," says Mr. Wolfson. "That is why we have changed the last event from San Antonio to Indianapolis. The course is smoother flying for the birds. They don't have so much mountainous country to fly over."

There will be about 6,000 birds in the race, entered from all parts of the United States. The first prize is $200.

SAYS COAL JOBBERS CAUSE CAR SHORTAGE

Shipments Sent From Town to Town in Effort to Extract Higher Price.

TIES UP EQUIPMENT Practice Keeps Cars From Being Unloaded and Returned to the Mines.

The demand for shipped-in coal is far greater than the supply, according to F. A. Dalton of the Dalton Coal Company, 13 North Fourth street. "It is not the local dealers that are manipulating the market," he said but the jobbers such as those at St. Louis.

Three cars of coal were shipped out of Columbia, recently to St. Louis. This coal had been shipped here and when the local dealers would not pay the exorbitant price demanded by the jobbers it was shipped out again. The coal jobbers are in this way hiding cars of coal and creating a shortage of coal and cars. Mr. Dalton said that the jobbers had probably shipped the coal to several other towns before it was sent to Columbia.

The shipping of the coal from town to town is the work of speculators. The local dealers could not have sold the coal at less than $10 a ton and made a fair profit. The present price of Illinois coal is $7.50 a ton. Mr. Dalton said that two people with whom he had talked had taken the attitude that the local dealers were to blame. "This is the wrong impression," said Mr. Dalton, "it stands to reason that we can't afford to keep any coal at the present demand and hope to make any money." He believes that the dealers will be able to take care of their orders, but that the delivery will be delayed.

The local dealers want to fill orders as soon as possible before the term of the University opens so that they will be able to take care of the fraternity and rooming houses then. W. P. Davis of the Davis & Watson Coal Company, on North Tenth street, said that there is plenty of coal at mines and plenty of labor, but that the operators claim a shortage of cars to move it. In regards to the cars of coal shipped out of Columbia yesterday morning, he said that such movements make a car shortage by tying up cars a week or two that could be unloaded and sent back to the mines in three or four days.

BEAVER BOARD FOR BETTER WALLS &amp; CEILINGS

Why Live with Cracked Walls and Ceilings When They're Easily Covered Up

Beaver Board will cover them up for all time and you'll never have the job to do again. While Beaver Board is doing away with the danger of falling plaster it is covering up old dingy wall paper on walls and ceilings and giving you an ideal surface for painting and decorating.

Many an old homestead has been revived with this knotless, crackless manufactured lumber. Room after room has been made over—one at a time if you please—without muss or litter. Beaver Board is real lumber. It is built up into large panels from the strong, pure fibres of the spruce tree. Each panel is treated with the patented Sealite process which prevents warping. If you need to build or re-build, restore or enlarge ask us how you will profit by using Beaver Board.
